

Moments ago, the House voted to permanently repeal the Death Tax. This tax is wrong. It hinders economic growth and threatens the future of American small business. The death tax is unfair to all Americans, especially family business owners, farmers and minorities. I am proud to vote to permanently repeal this tax and I applaud my colleagues for their support.